

Petition for the Reckoning of Ederon Coldwater and the Empty Watchhold of Marrowwatch

_To the hands that still receive petitions beneath the banners of the Ashen Era, _

I, whose name is best left beneath the dust, lay this petition before you concerning Ederon Coldwater and Marrowwatch. I ask neither favor nor song, only that the matter be looked upon before neglect seals it beyond recovery.

Ederon Coldwater is a minor figure of the Ashen Era, born in 391 AS. He serves as a Sapper. This is the whole of his proper account as I have found it: no canonical physical features are established for Ederon Coldwater; his visual identity is limited to his role as a Sapper. No canonical temperament is established for Ederon Coldwater. Let no clerk add a scar, a height, a color of eye, or a virtue or vice to the record merely because an empty line troubles him.

Marrowwatch was founded in 280 AS in The Ash Wastes. It is now abandoned, its name standing as the remnant of a watch-post without a living garrison recorded. It appears as an empty, marrow-pale watchhold set against the ash wastes. The place is silent, desolate, and defined by neglect.

I do not claim that Ederon Coldwater was born at Marrowwatch, served there, entered it, or vanished within it. No such bond is established before me. I claim only that the names have come to rest together in the mouths of the ash-road folk, and that such conjunctions are seldom harmless. A Sapper's work concerns earth, wall, breach, buried chamber, and the dangerous patience of old stone. An abandoned watchhold invites all of these suspicions, whether deserved or not.

Therefore I petition that the record of Ederon Coldwater be preserved without embellishment; that the condition of Marrowwatch be entered without invention; and that any surviving account, tool-mark, order, or witness concerning either be brought before a lawful keeper of records. If no evidence joins the man to the watchhold, let that absence be written plainly. If evidence does join them, let it not be smothered beneath the comfortable word "abandoned."

The ash remembers what the living refuse to count. I ask that this petition be sealed, copied, and answered.

_With due submission, and with dust upon my hands, _

A petitioner of the Ashen Era
